(By Paul Rardin)

In my rounds every week over the Lake Okechobee farming region I run across a lot of fellows who are working—despite the fact that it is summertime and things are supposed to be at a standstill. These chaps plug day in and day out at their various jobs in an effort to keep things moving. I jotted down the names of a few of them this week as I noticed them at their various tasks.

The first one I noticed was T. P. King with the Florida Power and Light company. Everybody calls him King. I don't believe there are a dozen people in the Glades who know that his first name is Theodore. Anyway, I saw him atop a pole between Canal Point and Pahokee in the middle of the afternoon carrying on his work. It was hot that afternoon, too. But it didn't make any difference to King. He kept on plugging until he finished his job.

I was in Belle Glade a few minutes later and found George Eimann, the postmaster, busy as a bee in Uncle Sam's institution. George keeps his place spotless and is surrounded by an efficient corps of workers. Business at the Belle Glade post office is increasing each year and the department in Washington is anxious to have more floor space to care for the ever increasing business. George carries on his work in a precise and methodical manner, rendering excellent service to the hundreds of patrons.

Everybody knows Reeder. Day in and day out he serves the Lake Region with laundry and dry cleaning service. As regular as clockwork he visits Lake towns and pleases his customers with expert work. Once in a while he may be a few minutes late on his rounds but all in all he runs on schedule.

The folks in the Bank of Pahokee are always busy. Be it summer or winter those folks always find something to do. From H. M. McIntosh, the president, right on down the line they are always ready to render efficient service in an effort to keep the financial wheels of this section in high gear. Cashier Rupert Mock and Assistant Cashier E. F. McIlwain, Bookkeeper Ed Thompson and Mrs. Cruthfield, all have a cheery hello and a smile when you go in there. That helps a lot during these drab summer days.

This paragraph may be a little hard to believe but I found Leon Ragsdale hard at work Wednesday afternoon. I saw him at the depot in Canal Point loading freight on a truck to be taken to his store. The Ragsdales have just returned from a vacation and Leon wasn't back in Pahokee thirty minutes before he was in his store at work. While he was away Miss Iva Mock operated the store and did a good job of it, too.

Flynn & Padgett, electrical contractors, are busy boys this summer. With a lot of building going on in this area they are kept busy wiring houses. Recently they opened an office in the Prince theatre building in Pahokee and took on the complete electrical and plumbing line. I saw both of them as busy as bees the other day installing necessary wires and appliances to give sufficient light to a new home. I predict that they'll do a nice business with the G. E. line.

There is one man in Canal Point who works all of the time. Or at least it seems that way to me. Bill Redick, Florida East Coast agent, stays on the go from early morn until late at night, attending the vegetable season he works about 16 hours a day. But, it seems to agree with him.

If you've never leaved around Denton's store in Pahokee you don't know how busy a man can be. I refer to Mike Hoperich. Mike stays busy all of the time if he isn't repairing a lawn mower he's rebuilding a boat or something else. If he has a few spare minutes he'll find him mounting a black bass head. And he is an accomplished taxidermist. During the football season he sells tickets at the gate and does a dozen and one customer things along with his regular job of waiting on customers. For V. C. C. it is summertime you'll find Mike doing something profitable most any time you visit the store.

Dow Geiger in Canal Point is another chap who doesn't do a lot of loafing. Dow has a very select grocery store and stays busy all of the time. He is the head butcher as well as grocery clerk. His wife is an able assistant in the store. I guess folks have to eat in the summer just as they do in the winter. Therefore, Dow is always able to find something to do around the store.

I like the way that the Maxwell boys at the Palm Service station go about their work. Very seldom will you find one of them loafing on the job. Leo and Ike have built up an enviable business and during summer months they have a lot of repair work to occupy their minds and a lot of time of day you pass their place you'll hear them talking for gas or some other necessity.

Then there's Wiley Tillis. The Home Town Bakery proprietor in Pahokee. How many times have you caught him loafing? Summer or winter? He keeps a crew of men busy in the bakery and a fleet of trucks on the road every day delivering his product to hundreds of customers.

Hale Promises To Finish Road 25 As An Emergency Job

Assurance Is Given By Road Department Chairman

Almost positive assurance that funds soon will be available with which to continue repairs on State Road 25, between Twenty-Mile Bend and Six Mile Bend, was received from Chairman A. B. Hale of the State Road Department Monday afternoon.

The promise was made to Senator John R. Beacham who called Mr. Hale by telephone regarding the course of a meeting of West Palm Beach and Everglades residents at the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the road situation.

The Road Department head stated that application has been made for FWA funds with which to do emergency work and that to expect to know today whether the money will be forthcoming. He said he would communicate again with Senator Beacham, not later than Wednesday.

In this development the group held up plans for sending a delegation to Coral Gables, meeting with Brooks Bateman, member of the Road Department for this district and to Tallahassee to see Chairman Hale later, if necessary.

Senator Beacham assured the group that Mr. Hale regards the completion of Road 25 work as an emergency project and will do everything within his power to carry it forward. Work on the road was halted more than a week ago because of lack of funds according to Road Department officials.

Everglades residents are concerned over the danger of being deprived of direct highway connection with the East Coast in the event of a storm. Concrete Highway would almost surely become impassable, they say, and with Road 25 closed the Lake Okechobee region would have no direct access to the coast—Palm Beach Post.

Conservationists Will Have Meeting

Regular meetings of the Pahokee-Canal Point and Belle Glade units of the Wildlife League will be held simultaneously at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night at the Woman's club in their respective towns.

Forty-four conservationists who formed the Belle Glade unit only two weeks ago are expected to bring one or more prospective members to the meeting. Representatives of the older unit at West Palm Beach are scheduled to attend both of the Wildlife League meetings in this section.

The newly organized Junior Unit in the Pahokee-Canal Point section met for the first time last Tuesday night. They are Francis Cross, Jr., president; H. M. McIntosh, first vice president; Hubert Geiger, secretary-treasurer. They chose as sponsors for the Junior Unit J. W. Strickland of Canal Point and Charley Barfield of Pahokee. The Junior unit also meets next Tuesday night at the Woman's club at 8 o'clock at the Pahokee Boy Scout house.

CAID THANKS

We wish to extend our deepest appreciation to the many friends who assisted us in our bereavement when our two boys met death in the West Palm Beach plane crash. We are grateful to each and every person who did church offerings and also to the U. S. Sugar corporation for the assistance given. We shall always remember the kindness of the people of the Lake region and made. To where burial was made. To the colored workmen who gave aid, we wish to express thanks. We will always be grateful to each and every person who made an effort to lighten our burden. W. S. CROSS and FAMILY.

Secretary & President Report On Assembly

V. C. Denton and Johnny Thomas, president and secretary of the Pahokee Rotary club, who attended the annual district assembly at Ft. Pierce club in Lake City on Monday and Tuesday of this week, reported yesterday on the meeting to the Pahokee members at the regular weekly luncheon.

Mr. Thomas attended the session which provided for secretary and Mr. Denton attended those for presidents. At a meeting of all the officials past district governors and the incoming district governor made interesting and educational speeches. Mrs. Denton and Mrs. Thomas accompanied Messrs. Denton and Thomas to Lake City.

At the regular weekly meeting yesterday Lillian Jones, Bill Free of the Belle Glade club were visitors.

Northmoor To Have 8 New Homes Built Town Belle Glade

Building To Start At Once In New Subdivision

"Northmoor," the latest subdivision to be opened in Belle Glade will have eight new homes under construction at the time this was reported. The immediate future it was stated by Luther Jones, Belle Glade realtor, yesterday. FWA details have already been completed on five of the homes and construction will begin at once. These five homes will cost the neighborhood $24,000.

In the new subdivision there are twenty acres which have been set into lots 75 by 140 feet. Building restrictions will be enforced and no home costing less than $2,500 can be built therein. Northern is located north of Evans sub-division which is north of the Baptist church in Belle Glade.

Mr. Jones said that arrangements have been made for lighting from the power company and that streets and sidewalks are completed. Telephone lines will be built in to the section, he pointed out.

Belle Glade is enjoying much business this summer and many new homes have already been erected. Many more are planned and many more will be taken on soon. Much repair work has been done and more is planned before the start of another busy season.

LAKE HARBOR SERVICES ARRANGED FOR SUMMER

The Rev. Forest C. Taylor, minister in the Community church in Clewiston, will spend the month of August as the presiding minister of the First Presbyterian church in Fort Lauderdale, where Dr. John G. King is pastor. The following program has been arranged for services in Lake Harbor.

Sunday, July 24, Mr. Taylor will have charge of the worship. Sunday, July 31, the Rev. J. Davis Conway, pastor of the Methodist church in Fort Haven will deliver the sermon. Sunday, August 7, the guest preacher will be the Rev. Wm. Marion Smith of the Belle Glade First Baptist church.

First Sunday, August 14, the services on this date will be in charge of the Christian Endeavor society of Lake Harbor.

Sunday, August 21, Rev. J. O. Johnson, minister of the Lake Glades Community Methodist Episcopal church will be guest preacher. Sunday, August 28, the Christian Endeavor society of Lake Harbor will arrange the program. This date will have charge of the worship.

Beginning the first Sunday in September, the services will be resumed and held as usual. Those living in the vicinity of Lake Harbor are cordially invited to hear these visiting ministers and their programs by the young people during the next few weeks.

Okeechobee Construction Company Is Low Bidder On 3 Wharf Structures

J. E. Price of the Okeechobee Construction company of Jacksonville, was the low bidder on the three wharf structures to be built by the Okeechobee Flood Control Board in Moore Haven, Clewiston and Okeechobee. It was disclosed yesterday by Ben Herr, secretary of the board from his office in West Palm Beach. Bids were opened on Monday and the winning bids were as follows: The four-hundred submitted prices of $5,802 was the lowest. Mr. Herr stated that the contract had not as yet been awarded. A fifteen day period is allowed for thorough investigation of the bids. The contract was not given but Mr. Herr stated that the Moore Haven structure will be found a group of about $2,500.

Other bidders were J. L. Loftin, of Fort Myers, and the Murphy Construction company and Cleary Bros. of West Palm Beach.

The construction of the wharf will be of the industrial canal just below the site of the old Clewiston mill. It will be north of and almost adjoining the present city wharf. It will be seventy six feet in length and sixteen feet in width and connected to the bank by a wide ramp. An easy landing will run from one section of the wharf to be built approximately four feet from the present water level to the other end which will be seven feet above water.

The substructure of the new wharf will be of extra heavy timber and piling heavily subjected to the deking will be subjected to the deking process which makes it not only term-proof but practically fireproof.—Clewiston News.

Palm Beach Post Story Proves Undoing Of Group Pahokee Piscatorial Artists

Some folks can tell a tall fish story and get away with it. Others who tell a whopper now and then just can't get by to save their lives. And in the latter category will be found a group of young Pahokee fishermen. May be they haven't been at it long enough to make a name for themselves, but in all probability, because of their custom to arranging their stories in an order that will get them the most attention. The story concerns Lucile Gold and his brother Jerry, Lewis Cross, Jordan Parker is brother of Mac's Luper Houston, Truman Durham and Spider Linder. The boys went deep sea fishing Sunday morning off Palm Beach. The story claims that the boys had a thing to say about Sunday's fishing trip. It is rumored among the boys that they had a thing to say about Sunday's fishing trip. It is rumored among the boys that they had a thing to say about Sunday's fishing trip.

Canal Point Druggist Boats Eight Foot Sail

H. D. Miller, Canal Point druggist, landed a sailfish Sunday, while fishing off Palm Beach with Capt. K. L. Howell on the Lillian II. The prize beauty measured eight feet and three-quarters of an inch and earned a $1000 bounty from the West Palm Beach Fish Commission. Others in the party were Mr. Miller, G. Lawton Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Fourny.

Dance Scheduled To Aid School Band

A dance is scheduled for next Thursday night, July 28, in the American Legion hall in Pahokee under the sponsorship of the Pahokee Band committee and the Pahokee Woodmen lodge. Proceeds from the dance will be used to buy much needed instruments for the Pahokee school band. Charles Rowan and his Lake Harbor band will provide the music next Thursday night according to announcement made by the band. The dance will be held in the American Legion hall in Pahokee. SINGING CONVENTION

The Palm Beach county singing convention will convene for its regular monthly meeting on Sunday, July 24, at 8 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend. A picnic lunch will be served at the noon hour. The convention will be held at the Palm Beach county singing convention. The convention will be held at the Palm Beach county singing convention.

Palm Beach Aviator Heads State Group

WEST PALM BEACH, July 21.—(FNS)—Wright Vermilya, Jr., president of the Palm Beach Aero club received appointment this week as governor of the Florida division of the National Aero nautical association.

His appointment came from President Charles F. Boller of the N. A. A. of Washington on recommendation of J. A. Waterhouse of Tampa, vice president, of the southern district. He succeeds the late Sidney C. Brown of Miami, accidentally shot and killed recently.

An aviator of 23 years experience, Vermilya, held a captain's commission on the 154th Observation Squadron.

Gas Retailers To Check On Credits To Minimize Loss

Regular Ratings To Show How Customers Pay Their Bills

In the future it's going to be rather hard for a fellow to stick one's hand in the gas pump and get a month's credit, then move on to another and spend his cash. That's what the Everglades Gasoline Retailers association work out and members of the organization say. At a meeting of the group held Wednesday night in B. Elliott's store in Pahokee, members advanced an idea to check on the credit ratings of all gas consumers in the Lake Okeechobee region. Credit ratings will go along with other information to all gas dealers showing promptness in handling station bills and other data valuable in minimizing losses.

An effort will be made to collect accounts overdue and it was pointed out that credit will not be extended to anyone who has failed to pay at the station which he previously patronized.

Clinton G. Coburn, proprietor of Coburn's Hardware store in Canal Point, will move his store from its present location near the post office to the new Tucker building during the past few days. Mr. Coburn said that the plan was to call for removal of the stock to its new location on or about the first of August.

Coburn Hardware Gets New Location

The Coburn store is one of the oldest business establishments in the Lake Okeechobee region. It was opened for business in 1925 and has enjoyed a thriving patronage since that time. A full and complete line of hardware is carried in stock at all times.

The new building to be occupied by the Coburn store was erected by the Tucker building company and is one of the finest buildings in Canal Point. The store will occupy the entire lower floor with the exception of a small room to be used by Mr. Tucker as an office. Workmen have been busy during the past few days converting the three room into one huge store room. Partitions have been removed and archways constructed between the rooms.

First Rubber Boat Won By H. L. Carter

The first rubber boat to be given away in the 1938 contest was won by H. L. Carter of Canal Point. This prize was the first of several to be given by Canal Point store this summer during the annual fishing contest. The rubber boat was given away as a prize in the contest. The contest was held in the American Legion hall in Pahokee. The contest was held in the American Legion hall in Pahokee.

Pahokee And Canal Point Road Work Is Progressing Okeh

New Material To Be Added To Widened Roadbed

Work of rebuilding the road between Pahokee and Canal Point is progressing rapidly and, before much longer, the new highway will be accessible to those who travel this stretch of state highway. Workmen started last week on the project which will be rushed to completion in order that the road between Pahokee and Belle Glade may receive the same treatment.

The road bed is being thoroughly scarified and scraped into shape by state road department equipment which was moved into this area from Key West. Convict labor is being used to remove much of the old road shoulder so that the roadbed may be widened about 18 inches on each side. The road bed is being scarified and scraped into shape by state road department equipment which was moved into this area from Key West. Convict labor is being used to remove much of the old road shoulder so that the roadbed may be widened about 18 inches on each side.

Following completion of the stretch between Canal Point and Pahokee, the equipment will be moved to the road leading to Belle Glade from Pahokee. When surface treatment is started, a heavy road grader is used to rework the material and widen the road. Some new material will be added, it was said, before the surface is put in place.

Emergency Council Headed By Guthrie

JACKSONVILLE, July 21.—(FNS)—Jack Guthrie, recently appointed director of the National Emergency Council, opened offices here today in the Lynch building, Jacksonville.

Until recently, Mr. Guthrie served as secretary to Senator Claude Pepper.

As director of the National Emergency Council in this state, Guthrie will coordinate the task of co-ordinating the work of various Federal agencies located in Florida.

A former resident of Winter Haven, Guthrie expressed delight over his return to the state and announced that, immediately following the organization of his office here, he expected to call on the heads of all Federal agencies to tend to the problem of cooperation and assistance.

The purpose of the National Emergency Council as outlined by Guthrie was as follows: To provide for the orderly presentation of business to the president, to coordinate the work of all Federal agencies, to coordinate and make more effective the constructive work of the field agency in preforming such activities as the president may desire to serve in an advisory capacity to the president and the executive director of the National Emergency Council.

NEW GLADES FIRE CHIEF
In the Florida county of the Everglades Fire Control District was created by act of legislature. "Roy Davis" appointed Guy J. Bender of Belle Glade as the first fire chief. Bender made a success of his job. Political preference raised him to the position. His preference now drops him from William M. Stafford of Lake Worth, who was named by Governor Cane to the position. What is amazing is that Cane wanted no long to oust Bender for an appointment of his own choosing.

Chief Stafford is a publisher of The Lake Worth Leader. Several years ago he served on the Florida State Board of Fire Control. He has the qualifications to become an able director of the Everglades fire control work which Duke and Broward counties are equally as interested as the other nine counties which comprise the district.

It is not an easy task that confronts Chief Stafford. The district has never been properly financed. The last legislature grudgingly raised the original annual appropriation of $25,000 to $35,000.

With a chief of his own selection in charge, perhaps Governor Cane can be taught the importance of the fire control district in preserving one of Florida's greatest agricultural assets from destructive fires. The governor in turn could then read legislation from his end of the state a lesson in conservation of Florida's resources which they should take far as the 11 counties which make up the Everglades district are concerned.

A properly instructed legislature, alert to the great natural resources of the Everglades, should not hesitate to set up a continuing and adequate appropriation for fire control instead of the parsimonious $35,000 annual allotment now at the district's disposal.—Miami Herald.

FLORIDA'S SUGAR HANDICAP
If Florida was included among the Southern states to which President Roosevelt alluded as being the nation's No. 1 problem, just a little fair consideration on the part of the government would speedily remove this state from that list.

Jay W. Moran, vice president of the United States Sugar Corporation, in an address before the local Kiwanis club pointed out that Florida is being not only unjustly used, but is being handicapped by its agricultural development by the iniquitous tariff and allotment laws enacted and approved by congress.

He spoke particularly as to the sugar industry of Florida. It is well known that certain sections of the Everglades include lands eminently fitted to the production of sugar cane of a high quality and that the federal government region are capable of producing more than 500,000 tons of sugar annually.

Under the laws allotting the world sugar production the state of Florida is restricted to producing only 55,000 tons. If, said Mr. Moran, 10 per cent of the continental market, that is consumption in continental United States, were allowed to Florida the results would spell prosperity to this state and to all other parts of the country.

But Florida is restricted to about 10 per cent of its own capacity to produce and less than the actual requirements of its own people.

Furthermore the speaker declared that if Florida were given treatment only 15 per cent as great as that now given to foreign areas and foreign countries, Florida would be a great assistance in relieving the unemployment situation throughout the country.

But that boon is not accorded the state because, through some legerdemain of its diplomats, 70 per cent of the continental market is given over to foreign countries.

Florida has often complained of the unfair discrimination it has received from the country's tariff laws, not only as to the production of sugar, but also as to the discrimination against the state's fruits and vegetables, but to no purpose.

FIVE QUARTS OF MILK

Ragged, but clean, an undernourished youngster, sitting in the public library and timidly asked for a book that would tell her what was best to feed her child. "I have five," she said, "the baby is eight months old, and the oldest is nine. And none of them," she went on, "is a very well. Their father gets $15 a week as much as $10, but even with all that, by the time the rent is paid, our clothing bought, water and lights paid for, and what carfare we have to use, I somehow don't seem to manage to buy the things that they ought to have to eat. I thought a book would help me."

And in the book she read "The two-to-six-year-old child must be given a quart of milk each day." (As she had five children to feed, she must provide five quarts of milk each day.) Caught up the price of that, the milk may be served in soup and custards or as a beverage alone. The child must have fruit or tomato juice. He must have whole wheat bread and grain cereals. He must have cooked fresh vegetables, and raw vegetables, too. He must have his daily cod liver oil. And some-

DRIVERS—OR DRIVEN?

We still have to learn how to live with the automobile. Both as pedestrians and drivers we are much at the mercy of ourselves, when our driving skill is inadequate. And in a sense, we are at the mercy of the machine.

For one thing, many modern motorists can go faster than many modern drivers can think—and act. "Cannonball" Baker, professional race car driver, who has driven more than 3 million miles, often at forced speeds, and who has had only one accident and that when his own car was standing still, says: "The average man's reflexes are not fast enough to handle the top speeds of today's automobiles."

Each driver has a "safe" speed. It is a balance of his personal reflexes against his car's speed. It is a speed that is right for him, given his physiological and mental makeup. For some exceptional drivers this "safe" speed may be high, but for many it is certainly not more than 40 or 45 miles an hour, even on the country highways.

But the campaign for highway safety—while it focuses chiefly on eliminating auto deaths and injuries, as, patently, it ought to—has other aspects. For instance, bad conduct on the highway can pump up the blood pressure, perhaps can harden the arteries, and surely can upset the digestion, and with it one's peace of mind.

Here is a driver—and where is he not?—who feels that that car ahead, moving a little slower than his own, must be passed at all costs, that the light must be beaten, that any other driver on the road who seems to violate the rules or infringe on his pride, must be disciplined with inner anger and perhaps with downright discourtesy and cursing. Of course, he may cause no accident. He may leave the death and injury toll where he found it. But his resultant inner turmoil has a price—and he will pay it, in frayed nerves, in an overworked heart. And what has he gained? Seconds so few they tick away before he can reckon them.

Yes, we must not only make highways safe for ourselves, but we must also make them safe for ourselves. We must learn how to drive with serenity. Otherwise we are not driving the car. It is driving us.—Rotarian Magazine.

IN FERTILE FLORIDA

(By Boake Carter)

There are in Southern Florida something like 4,000,000 acres of land which is most suitable for the growing of sugar cane.

There is at least one company which is doing a limited business in that territory.

Not long ago some 4,000 heads of families were added to relief rolls in Southern Florida.

They went to Washington and, approaching the Department of Agriculture, declared that they were willing to do their share toward helping achieve the objectives so loudly and persistently urged by Mr. Roosevelt—industry must take up the slack of unemployment if it did not want the government to step in.

should have simple desserts for them so much as a child."

The woman was seen to steady her teetering lip with her teeth. Then she returned the book to the librarian, and said, "Thank you very much. It must be wonderful to be able to give one's children the food they need."

my cellar and my wife told me to empty the contents of each down the sink or else. I said I would and proceeded with the unpleasant task. I withdrew the cork from the first bottle and poured the contents down the sink which the exception of one glass, which I drank.

I extracted the cork from the second bottle and did likewise with the exception of one glass which I drank. I then withdrew the cork from the third bottle, emptying the good old brand down the sink save for one drink which I drank. I pulled the bottle from the cork of the next one and drank one sink out of it, and poured the rest down the glass.

Poured the glass from the next glass and poured the cork down the bottle. I pulled the next cork and down the glass, bottled the drink and drank the pour. When I had emptied everything I staided the house with one hand and counted the bottles and corks and glasses with the other, which were 29.

To make sure, I counted again when they came by and I had 74, and as the house came by I counted again and finally I had all the bottles and bottles and corks and glasses counted except one, which I drank—E. A. M.—In Miami Daily News.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY
By Russell Kay.

They tell a story about a tailor who was given an order to make a pair of pants for a guy. He worked at the task diligently but it took him a lot longer than the impatient purchaser felt that it would. Every day the customer would phone the tailor and ask if the pants were ready. After three weeks he finally got them and found they were beautifully tailored. "Well, how do you like them?" the tailor asked.

"They're alright," the man replied, "only it took you an awfully long time to make 'em, the world was created in six days and you have taken three weeks on this one pair of pants."

The tailor replied "but take a look at the world mister, after then take another look at those pants."

Offhand, one might gather the impression that the Creator while a fast worker, didn't turn out much of a product, for the world today is a mighty sorry looking pair of pants.

But that's not the answer. When originally created and turned over to man, the world was a perfect piece of workmanship. If we really want to make a fair comparison, we'll have to wait and take another look at those beautifully tailored pants after man has had a chance to wear 'em a while.

We'll probably find them mud splattered and blood stained. There'll be ugly wrinkles, spots that are shiny and threadbare. Cliffs will be frayed. Lining worn through. Rents, tears and patches and the man will want another pair of pants, a new clean fresh pair, just as today he wants and needs a new world.

But a new world, like a new pair of pants must be paid for and man has been unwilling to pay. In his heart, man the world over wants pants, happiness and contentment, but he doesn't want to give anything for them. Some have thought to steal it, but without success for a stolen pair of pants, which don't fit him and are uncomfortable to wear, he doesn't work out.

But man, clever, resourceful and self-reliant, gets another bright idea. To hook with the tailor, he'll make his own pants. He selects poor material. His pattern is faulty. He makes a mistake after another. Stick his finger with the needle, cuts himself, threads, breaks, every thing he does is wrong. Finally he turns out a product that is of no value to him or anyone else. A waste of time, effort and material. He has fashioned for himself a worthless garment.

In a like manner ignoring the Master Tailor, he has tried to make for himself a world employing such materials as dishonesty, selfishness, lust and hate with greed as a pattern and distrust and suspicion as working tools. He would fashion a lasting world of strength and beauty with no more chance of success than the grotesque pants maker.

But the situation isn't as hopeless as one might think. In a war weary and troubled world, a rising generation is turning back to the tailor. Millions of young men and women in over 50 nations, believing that God has a plan are turning to him for guidance. They want a new and better world and are willing to pay by attempting to govern their own lives to the measurements of ABSOLUTE honesty, purity, unselfishness and love to form a worldwide brotherhood regardless of color, race or creed. Turning to God for strength and guidance each day.

They believe that the only way to "change" the world is to "change" the people in it, and as followers of the Oxford principle, they believe the best place to start is with yourself.

In the past few years, countless men and women in all walks of life have accepted the challenge and the influence of these God-guided lives in making their field in homes, at county tables, in business conferences and in international affairs to the end that harmony is replacing bitterness and intolerance. Giving has assumed a greater importance than getting and peace is replacing strife and discord.

Termining themselves "sinners" who have quit kidding themselves and the Oxford Movement, "The Church with its sleeves rolled up" they tell us that the answer to a new world lies deep in the hearts of men and women and with Chesterton contend that "Christianity has not been tried and found wanting, but has been found difficult and not tried."

Unorganized, the Oxford group is an organization, there are no members, no dues, you can't join or resign, participation depends solely on the moral and spiritual quality of your own daily life and it may be the ANSWER.

Senator Claude Pepper continues to carry Democracy's banner in speeches throughout the nation.

Robbin Hood Plays Glades Theatre

Three hundred 20th Century moderns who started north from Hollywood recently wound up the next day 600 miles and 800 years away.

The 600 miles carried them to a beautiful natural park near the thriving city of Chloco, Cal. The eight centuries carried them backward in time to the days of the famous Sherwood Forest and the moderns turned into Robin Hood and his outlawed or the malikid knights of Prince John.

And thus began one of the most striking projects ever launched by the Glades Theatre.

Warner Bros. in filming "The Adventures of Robin Hood" on an outdoor stage in the company of 2000 of the base of supplies, multiplied many times the problems of transport.

Texas is such a big state that it's a real drip from part of it to another. A man from Brownsville, on the southern edge, was gone quite a time away from home and when he got back neighbor inquired where he had been.

"Where'd you go?"
"Have a good time?"
"Now, I never did like them Yankees."
